

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XX.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1892.

NO. 83

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

Pulaski's lately elected circuit clerk, Napier Adams, with his supple form and handsome features, is now with us. Napier is a cousin of our Congreisman and is a young man of bright promise.

The closing exercises of the public school at this place, under charge of J. H. Thomas, took place at the Christian church last week. The house was well filled at an early hour from the surrounding community and from a distance. The exercises consisted of fine vocal and instrumental music, juvenile recitations, comic declamations, dialogues, both humorous and tragic, with a supply of Ethiopian characters and marching. All performed their parts well and enthusiastic applause was frequently and spontaneously given. Liberty has fine dramatic talent and with persistent training and culture a number of its youths would make their mark upon the professional stage. The entire audience was highly pleased and everything went off well. Though Mr. Thomas is young in years, he has already gained a fine reputation as a teacher. His school was well attended during the whole session and from what we learn from the patrons he has given general satisfaction. There was a heavy storm of wind and rain during the performance. The church was filled with happy men, women and children at the time, with a sprinkling of the descendants of Africa's sunny clime, and for a short time there were symptoms of alarm, but they soon subsided, and no damage was done.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Mr. Mack Litter and Miss Permelia J. Reynolds, both of the Waynesburg section, were married Sunday.

Mrs. Cora Winslow, 19 years old, of Valparaiso, Ind., has been married three times, divorced twice, and is after a third.

George Prout, of Detroit, blew out that part of the filling of his skull known ordinarily as brains, because pretty Carrie Wright wouldn't marry him.

It is announced that Miss Mattie Thompson, of Harrodsburg, thought by many to be the prettiest woman in Kentucky, will marry Mr. William Davis, of New York, who is a brother-in-law of Joseph Pulitzer, the owner of the New York World, in the spring.

An anonymous and idiotic scribbler sends us a notice of a marriage for publication, which we know has not occurred, and is not likely to occur for a long time. This business may be very funny to the writer, but it is not relished by the publisher, nor would it be by the couple were it to appear in print.

CURCH AFFAIRS.

The Paris Kentuckian says that Rev. S. M. Martin's meeting in a huge tent at Cynthiana has resulted in 98 confessions. A dispatch from there relates that quite an excited scene occurred on Friday night. Mr. Martin, who is attached to the Christian church, was making his usual diatribe against the other denominations, when Rev. C. C. Cox, of the Baptist church, sprang to his feet and told Mr. Martin he knew he was not telling the truth. Some very caustic remarks were exchanged. Rev. Cox made many friends by his manliness in calling Rev. Martin down.

F. W. Kochier, from Switzeland, died at Hammock, this county, a few days ago, aged 17.

Mr. J. Warren Hocker has received a letter from Red Oak, Texas, stating that Dr. H. Douglas died suddenly on the 7th. Dr. Douglas married a sister of Mr. Hocker and leaves eight children. His wife died about four years ago. It is supposed that he died from heart trouble.

The National Agricultural Department estimates from tabulated reports that the percentage of loss of sheep by dogs is 4 per cent. in Kentucky, while in other States it runs as high as 8. And yet the cowardly legislatures are afraid to affix sufficient penalties to prevent the slaughter.

The railroad and steamship men met in Atlanta a few days ago and took steps for a proposed new line of vessels from Savannah or Brunswick, Ga., to Liverpool. The immediate object is to give the foreign people who come to the World's Fair another route to come and go, so they can see the South as well as the North.

Congressman Breckinridge said in New York that there was a feeling that a man more in sympathy with Mr. Cleveland's views on the tariff, silver and other questions than Mr. Crisp is should be selected for the next speaker. Mr. Breckinridge declared that, personally, he himself did not desire the place, although his friends were urging him to run.

QUEEN & CRESCENT.—Round-trip tickets will be sold December 23d to 26th inclusive, and December 31st; also January 1st and 2d; all of which will be good to return till January 4th, '93. All agents have instructions to sell excursion tickets to principal points throughout the United States. Call on or address D. G. Edwards, G. P. A., Cincinnati, O.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

H. T. Logan & Co. have rented Batson's store-room for next year.

Northcutt & Co. have slaughtered and shipped to the city markets 5,500 turkeys.

The schools taught at Rice Academy and Mason school-house in Lower Garrard closed Friday.

Wm. Totten has exchanged his farm at Paint Lick with Mr. Geo. Bettis for his house and lot on Crab Orchard street.

On Christmas eve the ladies of the Presbyterian Mite Society will have turkeys, cakes, salads, etc., for sale in Mr. E. W. Harris' store. This society has been a great help to the church.

We wish that one of the town trustees lived on Richmond street, for if one resided on that thoroughfare the probabilities are that the crossing between McRoberts' and the Miller Hotel would be repaired.

We understand that Mr. Sam Engleman, of Hubble, is thinking of moving to Kansas. If he does, it will cause a vacancy in the master commissioner's office of the Hubble circuit court. Those desiring this lucrative position had better file their application at once and avoid the rush.

The contest between Messrs. Mason and Broaddus for the circuit clerkship will be tried one day this week before the county judge and the magistrates residing nearest to Lancaster, viz: Henry and Denby. In naming the attorneys for Mason we omitted Hon. R. H. Tomlinson. We regret this, for Mr. Tomlinson has been the attorney of Mason from the beginning and has had the principal management of the case.

Mr. R. E. Hughes and wife have returned from their bridal tour through the South. Miss Mary Grimes, of Marksbury, is visiting Mrs. Nathan Thompson. Miss Sallie Tomlinson has returned to her home in Danville. Miss Myrtle Wilds visited Marksbury Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. E. F. Gaines and wife, of Garrard, have gone to Danville, their future home. Miss Georgia Woods, of Marksbury, is the guest of Miss Mamie Currey. Dr. J. W. Grant has returned from a trip to the mountains. Messrs. Jesse Wearen and Carroll Bailey were in our city Sunday.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The General Assembly has decided that the holiday vacation shall be for ten days, from Dec. 23 to Jan. 3.

The House passed the good time convict bill, extending it to 90 days a year from 60. A whipping post bill would have shut off most of necessity for such legislation. There would not be half the convicts to deal with, if the lash took the place of the lighter sentence.

W. E. Copper has been confirmed as post-master at Midway.

A recount in one county in North Dakota shows that the electoral vote, which it was thought would be divided, will all be for Weaver, the three electors winning by pluralities ranging from 15 to 88.

The secretary of the treasury has informed the Speaker of the House that the deficiency of the government for the current fiscal year is estimated at $14,636,520, of which $10,500,000 is on account of pensions.

By a vote of 141,321 to 68,045 Massachusetts has abolished the ancient provision in her constitution making any man ineligible for the office of governor who did not possess real estate in his own right to the value of $1,000.

It is unofficially announced in Washington that only his poverty stands between Mr. Douglas and his handing of Uncle Sam's $425,000,000. Many a poor man would be willing to waive so slight an objection.—Lou. Times.

The second trial of M. B. Curtis, the actor, who made the play "Samuel of Posen," famous, came to an abrupt end Friday by the death of one of the jurors. In a drunken condition, Curtis killed a policeman in San Francisco about a year ago.

Dr. Taylor, a practicing physician and an educated man, is the next to feel the halter draw in this State. He was ringleader of the party that massacred a family of five near Pound Gap—a man, two women and two children. In the classic language of a Chicago paper, he will be "jerked to Jesus" on the 16th.

BUCKLIN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever, sore water, chafed hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

A son of Mr. M. D. Passer, a merchant of Clinton, N. C., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism for a year or more as to be unable to work or go to school. His father concluded to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm on the boy. It soon cured him and he has since walked 1½ miles to school and every school day. 50 cents bottles are sold by L. M. L. Bourne, Druggist and Optician, Stanford, Ky.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

Hugh Miller has bought the town scales and will repair them.

The Ladies' Aid Society will give an entertainment at the court-house Christmas eve.

Mr. Barger, who lately built a nice house at Brodhead, had the misfortune lost it by fire Friday.

Wm. Agee, charged with cutting James Adams in a difficulty over a rooster's picture, was acquitted at the examining trial here.

One of the Signal's printers, a newly-made father, a few days since walked into his home and absent-mindedly spit upon the bed and pitched his hat into the grate.

Misses Mollie and Helen Sawyers and the Misses Wright, of Brodhead, have been visiting friends here. Miss Anna Stewart, of Wildie, is with relatives here. Miss Mattie Newcomb is visiting relatives in Louisville.

An 11-year-old daughter of Jack Scott, who lives on Dry Fork of Crooked Creek was accidentally shot and instantly killed by a 14-year-old brother, who had returned from hunting and in coming into the house, aimed to turn around to look back, when the gun struck the door-facing and fired, striking the little girl and carrying away the top of her head.

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

PINE COTTAGE.—For rent; five acres attached. Mrs. Mollie Wray.

C. M. Jones sold to Fox for Nelson Morris a lot of export cattle at $1.

It is claimed that over 2,000 horses have entered the 2:30 list this year.

J. W. Powell has a field of 20 acres that gave him 11 barrels of corn to the acre.

J. I. Lyle bought a jack on Wednesday for which he paid $1,000. He is to go to North Carolina.—Winchester Sun.

P. W. Green bought of W. G. G. Hurt, of Adair, a 4 year-old gelding for $150.

Lost, a black, white-faced boar, white feet, weight 125. Reward, S. J. Jones, Preachersville.

The exports of farm products from this country during the past fiscal year amounted to more than $800,000,000.

Steele & Botts have bought during the last week 200,000 pounds of tobacco from growers at prices ranging from 9 to 14c.—Midway Clipper.

A cotton compress at Waco, Tex., compressed 1,346 bales in nine hours and five minutes, against the Galveston record of 1,232 bales in 10 hours. This beats the world's compressing record.

The Harrodsburg Democrat says that Wm. Campbell, who left there seven years ago, returned last week, having ridden horseback or in a buggy from San Francisco, California, a distance of about 3,500 miles.

Embry, Dunn & Co. bought of Hall Anderson a pair of mare mules, 16½ hands, for $350. W. B. Caldwell & Son sold two aged jennets and suckling jennets to Garvin, of Bowling Green, for $1,050.—Advocate.

The American Bee Journal says that there are 3,000,000 persons in the United States who keep bees and that the number of colonies are about 3,000,000, producing nearly 75,000,000 pounds of honey annually, worth $10,000,000, and wax worth $600,000.

Charles Lillard, of Mercer, has sold his corn to Thomas Alexander at $2 delivered and Cunningham bought 100 barrels at $2.25 delivered. The Democrat also reports sales of 2-year-old cattle at 3½ and two cars of fat hogs at 5c.

A fairly good crowd attended court yesterday, but it was a real drag of a day. Col. A. G. Talbott says there were some 25 cattle on the market, but no public sales were made. Butcher stuff sold privately at 2c; beefers 2½c. Several plug horses sold at $18 to $35.

The Lebanon Enterprise says that Boardman & Hardesty got $6.40 per cwt. for two car-loads of hogs shipped to Louisville, but the car-load of cattle was hard to dispose of at any price. Corn sold at Mrs. Begley's sale at $2.11. Mattingly and Sanders Bros. bought six car-loads of hogs at 6c.

At a low estimate 75,000 to 100,000 head of cattle have died in New Mexico from starvation and lack of water. The railroads are shipping cattle out of the region by train loads, but thousands of these cattle will die, as they are too weak to withstand the winter. The sheep are in almost as bad condition as the cattle.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever, sore water, chafed hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford, Ky.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

For pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus there is nothing better than Chamberlain's Cholic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. For sale by Dr. M. L. Bourne, Druggist and Optician, Stanford, Ky.

HUSTOVILLE.

An infant of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Tanner died at McKinney Friday.

Look out for Christmas advertisements from this section in next issue.

Willie Davidson and S. N. Davidson have returned from a visit to friends in Wright county, Mo.

A good crowd attended the Chautauqua Circle entertainment Friday night. It proved to be a most enjoyable occasion and particularly was the music enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reid are both quite sick. They are a happy couple and have lived their long lives together with as few unpleasant jars as any that can be suggested.

—George Riffe, Jr., sold to William Moreland 16 feeders at 4c. J. P. Riffe sold Montie Fox 25 feeders at 3½c. T. L. Carpenter sold to Givens & Carter 11 cotton mules at $82.50.

J. P. Crow & Co. have built a commodious and convenient store-room at McKinney and will soon move into it. By the way, watch their "ad." in our next, also look out for F. M. Ware's Xmas talk.

—Everything is quiet here at present, but the friends of Wm. Powers, killed here, are sending lots of messages concerning their coming up and "taking the town." The good citizens hereabout are not losing much sleep on that account, however.

—Postmaster W. R. Davidson, of McKinney, says that the office there is no small affair and that during the month of August 8,742 pieces of mail matter were handled. Of course most of it was composed of the INTERIOR JOURNAL's big list of subscribers.

—John Dinwiddie and family will soon move from Carl Ross, this State, to his father's place, near here. Mr. Robt. J. Lyles and wife, of Nashville, will remain at her father's, Mr. J. M. Cook, for a week or more. Walter Greening and wife have moved to his father's, and Mr. Greening is still running his store here.

—The SAME AS IT USED TO BE.

The girls are planning to get a beau; They dress for party, ball and show—And the old folks tell us it wasn't so.

When they were young and used to go,

But the difference is really no more or less Than a little change in the style of dress;

And human nature itself see Is just the same as it used to be.

After the verses and prayers are said,

The old folks light the boys to bed,

And they lie as still as though they were dead

Till Daddy goes off to his dreams instead,

Then down the back stairs—so slow and slow,

With their books in their hands—and away they go;

And the old man laughs in the morning to see It's just the same as it used to be.

Those good old maids are waiting yet—

Over love affairs they froth and fret—

Or girls they never saw such a set—

EVERY FRIDAY.

The Court of Appeals, with Judge Pryor dissenting and Judge Bennett writing a separate opinion, decides that the constitutional requirements were not conformed to by the Legislature in the final passage of the World's Fair bill; that the latter is therefore void, and for this reason reverses the decision of the lower court ordering a mandamus to compel the auditor to pay. They all agree that the final passage of a bill means in its completed form and must receive a constitutional majority, while Judge Pryor maintains that the court could not go behind the signatures of the clerks of the two Houses of the General Assembly to inquire into the vote on the passage of a bill. The ground held by the attorneys for the auditor that the appropriation for such a purpose was unconstitutional was also knocked out, Gov. Brown being sustained in nearly every point. The decision renders nugatory much of the important work done by the body and may cut a serious figure. A new bill was presented yesterday and friends of the measure think it can be put through before the holidays, in which event a credible display can yet be made by Kentucky. It is to be hoped that it can and that Kentucky will not be knocked out of an exhibit of her resources, because of a pig-headed Senate, that wanted to prove to Gov. Brown that he didn't know any law.

If the INTERIOR JOURNAL were to print all the good things said of it and its editor by those friends of the press who allow their hearts to get the better of their judgment, we might devote a column to it every issue, besides displaying a vanity that we hope we are not guilty of. However, we treasure these good words and feel grateful, even though we are aware how mistaken the dear fellows are. There is nothing directly personal in the following highly appreciated compliment from the Glasgow Times, so we hope there will be no objection to its reproduction: "It is not out of place to say that a great deal of the general news in The Times is from week to week clipped from the Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL; and it is still less out of place to further say that it couldn't be clipped from a better paper. The INTERIOR JOURNAL is the model country journal of the State."

The four murderers were artistically worked off at Louisville Friday morning, from the same scaffold, and in 15 minutes their souls had entered the great hereafter and their bodies were ready for the tomb. The usually tragic speech-making was omitted and the men met death as calmly and as indifferently as if their murderous performances had entitled them to an extra jewel in their crowns. Dennis McCarty killed his wife in cold blood, Stephen Hite stabbed Albert Baurmann to death, Lewis shot George Dean and Thomas strangled Birde Coleman. The first two were white men, the last two negroes. All met death like brutes, the only semblance of humanity exhibited being their aversion to dying with their boots on, each removing his foot gear before his hands were strapped.

In an elaborate article on kissing in the Frankfort Capital, the singular proposition is made that while kissing is a good thing ordinarily, we have entirely too much of it in America. Brer Johnson has evidently been wasting his osculatory sweetness on some old maid, who had been masticating a bulbous root of the genus allium, or he could never have published an article so completely at variance with his saccharine nature.

The bill of Congressman Garuth, to shut off the pension of any man who is now or shall become a Federal office-holder, will have the effect if passed of preventing the greedy cro' vd from trying to get the earth and the entire fulness thereof. In the event of the passage of the bill, there will be no more old soldier office-holders, unless their pensions be smaller than the salary attached to the place sought for.

It is said that Ex-President and President-Elect Cleveland is preparing to train with Muldoon to reduce his weight and put him in better trim to wrestle with the ubiquitous office-seekers. The easiest and cheapest plan would be to get a Gatling gun to use when exhausted nature can stand no more.

The bounty paid to sugar producers this year amounts to $10,000,000, for which there is absolutely no warrant in justice. The farmer who finds wheat growing unprofitable is as much entitled to a bounty to make it so as the sugar-maker. There must be no favored classes under a democratic government.

SENATOR BLACKBURN, who will probably exert little or no influence with the next administration, says he has already 2,000 applications for appointments under Cleveland, whom he seems to hate worse than the devil hates holy water.

It will be all right when we get used to it, but up to date the cost of the new constitution has been several hundreds of thousands in dollars, a miserable botch of legislation, a black eye in great national enterprise and a feeling of uncertainty as to just how much of the law that we think we have is good law.—Courier-Journal. And yet this very paper deserted us in the thickest of the fight and ignominiously turned its back to the foe. The few of us who kept up the battle knew that we were in the right and the most of us were like Henry Clay—rather be right than president. But the constitution is the fundamental law and it is useless to say now what you were afraid to say when the question was an open one.

CLEVELAND'S plurality in California, according to the full returns, is 152. The prohibitionists failed to secure enough votes to have the names of their candidates placed on the ticket hereafter. And this reminds us to inquire where are the 1,000,000 votes that the prohibitionists promised to poll? They failed most signally to materialize, as their total vote in the United States, according to the New York Herald, is not much more than a quarter of it. But the hopeful souls will continue to hope in the face of defeat. In fact, it was of the prohibitionist most probably that the poet wrote "Hope springs eternal in the human breast."

The heart of a live man is generally speaking a worthless kind of a possession, almost as much so indeed as that of a dead one. The commercial value of the latter is to be decided in Paris this week, when the heart of the Dauphin Prince, son of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, who has been dead over a hundred years, will be put up at auction. A surgeon stole the heart when he made an autopsy of the remains and it has been in the family ever since, sealed in a jar of spirits. The surgeon's son died recently and the heart is to be sold with his other effects. How much do we hear for the small remnant of royalty?

AFTER trying prohibition for eight years with more than ordinary success, the people of Elizabethtown voted Saturday 181 to 133 to go back to the license system, which seems to be the best after all. As long as the miserable stuff made, so long will it be sold and drunk, and until the year of jubilee comes, when it shall be a capital offense to manufacture, sell, transport or handle it, people will find after a trial that it is better that its sale should be regulated by law.

HAVING been knocked out fore and aft by the people, the republicans are scheming to get more of the offices under the protecting wing of the civil service law, which they have always held in the supremest content. The public printing office is to be included, with the hope that about 2,000 republicans may be retained in office. The president is the ring master of this business and if it work, he will show that he is the smallest man in these United States.

Gov. Brown has appointed Hon. S. B. Dishman, a good lawyer and a first-class democrat, to fill the vacancy on the common pleas bench in the Barbourville district, occasioned by the resignation of Judge J. H. Tinsley, whose judicial career has been marked with ability, firmness and courtesy. As the office expires by constitutional limitation with the close of the year, Judge Dishman will hardly get the emine to sit gracefully on his person before he will have to doff it.

WHEN an editor, whose own name is spelled wrong in his paper, has no other argument to make than one based on a very apparent typographical error in ours, we must conclude that he is whipped and as we never kick a man when he is down, we will let the editor of the London Echo get up and go in peace. What he doesn't know about finance, or we for that matter, would fill several volumes.

IMPELLED by a desire he could not control, Mr. Haas, of Indianapolis, imprinted a kiss on the rich red lips of Miss Palmer against her will and she raised about it. Haas was arrested and being tried for the assault was fined $500. A good sum to pay for one little kiss, but worth every cent of it, if the girl be as pretty as the dispatches would have a credulous public believe.

THE Montana ladies turned up their little noses and kicked their little toesies so high in the air, because the judge selected Miss Rehan as the model for the silver statue that they had to renig. The home ladies say that when there is even better material to select from among them, it is an insult to go away over to Ireland after a perfect formed woman.

THE Revision Commission, after costing the State $12,000 and being but little assistance to legislation, has reluctantly admitted that had nothing further to do and has shut up shop to be recalled by the governor, if necessary, which is not likely. Over 800 pages were dumped on the legislature as a final token of its regretted demise.

NO, thanks, Col. Johnson. No poussin for us. You and Emmett Logan, Laurie Blakely and such kindred spirits can fill up on those fancy mixed drinks. We want them straight or none at all.

The New York Reform Club gave a banquet Saturday night in honor of Mr. Cleveland, which was attended by over 500 democrats of prominence from all over the country. Mr. Cleveland responded to a toast and as usual talked horse sense. Senator Carlisle, Senator Mills, Hon. Carl Schurz, Congressman W. C. P. Breckinridge and others also spoke, but from some reason Speaker Crisp was not called upon. He left early, apparently piqued at the slight, which, if intended for one, was much out of place. It was said, however, that Mr. Crisp was not down in the list of speakers, which was necessarily limited, owing to the great crowd.

JAY GOULD seems to have been the exception to the Biblical rule which says no man liveth to himself and no man dieth to himself. Jay lived entirely for self and when he died he left all his millions to his children, remembering no charitable institutions whatever. Perhaps it is as well so. A great many men serve the devil all their lives and then try to buy pardon and be praised of men by willing money to objects of charity, which they have squeezed out of all their lives.

THE Glasgow Times is out heart and soul for a whipping-post. We have urged the legislatures to pass one for years, but the fellow-afraid-of-his-record has always been too numerous to listen to anything that might temporarily lose him votes at home. We should like very much, however, to see a legislature elected which has the backbone to do what, under the circumstances, seems to be an absolute duty.

THE people have voted to reform the tariff, reduce the pensions to an honest basis, wipe out force legislation and repeal the sugar bounties, and the democrats will be held to account for every day's delay after it is in their power to do so that they do not. All these things must and will be done at the very earliest possible moment.

NEWSY NOTES.

A beautiful, white rainbow was seen in a perfectly clear sky at night, at Celina, O.

Prof. Lee C. Walter, a bright young musician, who gave a performance here once, died at Harrodsburg.

At Anderson, Ind., little Eddie Go'd thrashed a light match into a tar barrel and "he's up with the angels now."

Dick Oreals paid too much attention to his friend Underwood's wife and was stabbed six times through the heart for it.

Flemingsburg democrats have sent to Richard Croker, the Tammany chief, an immense tiger, all wrapped in stars and stripes.

The bill for the protection of fish was, after being tabled down with amendments and talked nearly to death, finally killed.

Joseph Ewing is the second person to fall dead at Harrodsburg in a week. He was 70 years of age and seemingly in perfect health.

Attorney General Miller states in his report that the treasury is in danger from Southern claims, which have no just foundation.

Dr. Stivers and wife were held each in $1,000 and the little girl they so shamelessly abused has brought suit for $70,000 damages.

Martin G. Burke, another of the Cronin murderers, died in the State prison at Joliet, Ill., of consumption. He made no confession.

At the meeting of the South Carolina House a test vote was taken on the question of prohibition. There was a majority of 28 in its favor.

A dispatch from Brussels says that the Monetary Conference Committee adjourned without reaching a decision on any of the plans before it.

The democratic party will be held responsible for every day of unjust taxation continued after the date when it should be abolished.—N. Y. World.

The leading silversmiths and dealers and makers of gold and silverware, cutlery, crockery, leather goods, etc., have combined, their capital being $12,000,000.

Green Vance came home unexpectedly to Knoxville, Tenn., and found Jas. Talbot asleep in his wife's bed. Vance hit him with an ax and he hasn't woke up yet.

A Columbus, O., mother asked her daughter to play "Nearer my God to Thee," and when the tune was finished the mother's spirit had joined the silent majority.

The prisoners in the Bourbon county jail overpowered the deputy jailer and attempted to escape, but were prevented from doing so by Harry James, the son of the jailer.

A Louisville Southern passenger train and a Kentucky Midland engine and caboose collided at Georgetown and H. M. McMullen, a brakeman on the caboose, was killed.

A Philadelphia groceryman, whose wife recently presented him with triplets, has named them Grover, Cleveland and Frances. He is evidently stuck on the Clevelands.

Senator Voorhees pronounces absurd the statement that the republicans will not fight to retain control of the Senate. He says the democrats in the Senate are just as anxious to begin tariff revision as are those in the House, and will assume all responsibility, if necessary, and begin to-morrow if necessary.

Do You Need a New Cloak?

THE : LOUISVILLE : STORE.

—William Waddle, a school teacher of Somerset, got on a big spree and was robbed of a lot of money and his watch.

—Resolutions of condolence and sympathy for the family of Jay Gould were adopted by the Memphis legislative council. He once contributed $10,000 during a yellow fever epidemic.

—Joe Goddard, of Australia, knocked out Peter Maher, of Ireland, in the third round at the Coney Island Athletic Club. The fight was for a purse of $7,500, of which $1,000 went to the loser.

—The L. & N. office at Cincinnati has been systematically robbed to the extent of $45,000. The thief is laid to the agent and the cashier, each of whom has been high roller at gambling and horse racing.

Badly Hurt.

Mrs. Wade was in one respect a "tormenter-some" woman to live with, as her husband expressed it. She had "no imagination," he said, and "would ask the queerest questions."

At the supper-table Mr. Wade mentioned a tragic circumstance that he had read that day in the newspaper. A passenger on a transatlantic steamer had fallen overboard in mid-ocean, and had never been seen again.

"Was he drowned?" asked Mrs. Wade.

"Oh, no; of course not," said Mr. Wade. "But he sprained his ankle, I believe."

Willing to Compromise.

"No," said the young woman. "It can never be! I wish I could have spared you the pain of this refusal, but let me say—"

"Don't say you will always be a sister to me, Miss Kerleigh!" howled the disappointed man. "Anything but that!"

"No, Mr. Wellalong," she said gently. "I am hardly old enough for that. But I might be a—a niece or something of that kind, you know."—Chicago Tribune.

Sure to Go.

Little Dot—Mamma is going to take me with her when she visits Aunt Jenny.

Little Dick—She's goin' to take me, too.

"Did she say so?"

"No."

"Then how do you know?"

"She'll never leave me here with that closet full of jam."—Good News.

A Grammar Needed.

"I don't need nothing," said Mrs. Jaysmith, when she opened the door in response to a ring and found a peddler there.

"Pardon me, madam," he replied, "but I think you do need a grammar. I'm sorry I do not carry them with me. Good morning."—Harper's Bazaar.

At a Club Meeting.

Jones—if Mr. Oldboy makes any such assertion I will denounce him as a liar. President—Mr. Jones, I call you to order. Our by-laws do not allow you to go that far.

Jones—Then I call Mr. Oldboy a liar but I think you do need a grammar. I'm sorry I do not carry them with me. Good morning."—Harper's Bazaar.

Solving the Problem.

Deacon Wayback—For the life o' me I can't see why the boys rush inter the city an' leave the farm.

Deacon Wiseacre—Well, I've an idea. It's because they're so tired o' the blamed thing they don't keer to take it with 'em.—Jury.

Wanted Stationery.

Queer Party—Got any barometers? Salesman—Nol this is a book store. Don't keep 'em.

"Excuse me! but I notice in the weather reports that the barometer is sometimes stationery."—Texas Siftings.

Quite Observing.

He—I believe in the old saying that "love is blind."

She—Any new proofs?

He—Ye-es; I've noticed that lovers never seem to discover it when they are left in the dark.—Once a Week.

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., DECEMBER 13, 1892

E. C. WALTON, Bus. Manager

MEANS BUSINESS.

ENGRAVING beautifully and artistically done at A. R. Penny's.

Buy your books and school supplies of all kinds from A. R. Penny, who sells them at publisher's prices.

Have your watch, clock and jewelry repaired at A. R. Penny's. All work warranted.

REMEMBER that all silverware, watches, rings, &c., bought at A. R. Penny's will be engraved free of charge.

PERSONAL POINTS.

MR. EVAN WATERS is seriously ill.

Mrs. ALLIE FISH, of Crab Orchard, is visiting Mrs. Dr. J. G. Carpenter.

MR. WALTER GREENING and wife, of Hustonville, were here Friday.

Mrs. WM. ROYSTON, of Garrard, has been on a visit to her parents here.

J. W. GIVENS goes to Lexington, Miss., to-day with a car-load of horses and mules.

Mr. J. H. YEAGER left Saturday for a visit to Bowling Green, with a view to locating.

Mr. J. M. HUBBARD returned from Memphis Sunday, much improved, in health.

Mr. G. C. Givens went over to Paris Saturday to join his wife and remain till after the holidays.

Mrs. OCTAVIA SIZEMORE and Maggie McCauley and Mr. H. G. Landram went to Danville Sunday.

Mrs. R. J. LYLES, of Nashville, and Miss Kate Cook, of Hustonville, were the guest of their sisters here.

The date of the entertainment by the Rainbow Club at Miss Ethyl M. Beazley's is the evening of Dec. 28th.

THOMPSON COOPER, Bob Lyles, Bob Hocker and Jim Cook bagged 173 birds in their two days' hunt in Marion.

COL. D. G. SLAUGHTER went to the cities Saturday for another supply of goods to fill his nearly cleaned out shelves.

Mrs. JOHN JENKINS, of Rome, Ga., and her brother, Mr. H. B. Bibro, of St. Louis, are guests of Mrs. Dr. Steele Bailey.

Mr. H. R. THURMAN has been greatly troubled with Bright's disease and at the advice of his physicians will move to Adair county for awhile.

Mr. J. H. DIETRICH, the business-like and State agent for Chamberlain's medicines, of Des Moines, is here on business connected with his establishment.

MISSES MATTIE BOSLEY, of Stanford, Eugene Fullam and Lizzie DePauw, of Shelby City, are expected Saturday to visit Mrs. H. M. Ballou.—Record-Homes Register.

DR. ED ALORN, who, in addition to a large practice of his profession, has as much law business as the average lawyer, was here Saturday settling up some things in that line.

MISSES W. L. RIDDELL, master commissioner of Boone, and J. L. Lassing, attorney, were here yesterday to sell a farm belonging to Misses Emma and Pearl Moore, former pupils of the College here, from Boone county.

MRS. POKIE T. COURTS and sons Louis and Earl, went to Greensburg yesterday, to attend the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Toomey, Mrs. Courts' parents. Hardly one couple in 10,000 live to enjoy so interesting an event.

Mrs. R. E. HUGHES and his lovely bride returned from their bridal tour to New Orleans and other Southern cities, Friday, looking very happy and contented. We trust no storms will ever annoy, the smooth current of their domestic joy.

Mr. A. A. LEWIS, the bright and clever editor of the Somerset Republican, is here en route to Silver Creek, where he has been asked by Collector Burnam to assist in gauging 5,000 barrels of whisky, which is to be taken out of bond by New York purchasers.

Mr. J. C. BRYANT, the Lexington druggist and one of the most popular men in Central Kentucky, will be a candidate for U. S. marshal under Cleveland. Mr. Bryant is as brave as a lion (he hails from that county of nervy men, Garrard) and is as courteous as Chesterfield. He would make a most admirable marshal and his appointment would gratify a legion of friends, while striking terror to the hearts of evil-doers.—Woodford Sun.

CITY AND VICINITY.

Six Zimmer's Xmas goods.

FOR RENT.—House of four rooms, and hall on Whitley avenue. C. C. Withers.

We are closing out what cloaks we have at greatly reduced prices. Come and see. Severance & Son.

We have reduced a line of all wool dress goods to 40 cents for Christmas. Come and see them. J. S. Hughes.

FOR RENT—House and 25 acres of pasture, 3 acres of splendid tobacco land, large garden, variety of fruit. H. Helms.

Just received a car-load of salt, lime and cement; also full line of Columbian cook stove repairs. J. K. Van Arsdale.

ANYTHING you want in the jewelry line at lowest prices. Danks, the Jeweler.

We are closing out our stock of queensware and glassware at cost. W. H. Warren & Co.

A. A. WARREN is opening the largest and prettiest line of Holiday goods ever seen in this market. Call in and see them.

The Q. & C. put on a train yesterday that will make the run to Tampa, Fla., in 22 hours. It will pass Junction City about 12:30 P. M.

A BUNDLE containing 8 undershirts was put in my buggy in Stanford on Nov. 11th. Please call for them and pay for this notice. W. C. Spratt.

JUDGE M. C. SAUFLEY will deliver an address on Friday night, Dec. 23, at Hustonville, before the members of the Chautauqua Circle. The public is invited.

We are daily receiving a large and handsome line of Christmas goods and you are cordially invited to call in and inspect it. We can show you a present to suit anybody. Farris & Hardin.

I HAVE returned to Stanford and of for my services to the public. Have had a number of years' experience in the carpenter's trade and am fully prepared to do any kind of work. J. T. Blankenhip.

A COLORED quintette, composed of Anderson Carr, Joe Reid, Manuel Barrow, Charlie Higgin and Jim Crouch, killed 132 partridges in a two-days' tramp from Mt. Vernon, to Somerset, and brought us a few to prove it.

The stores are filling up with Christmas goods, about which this paper will tell you in big type next issue. As we are prepared to accommodate everybody the usual precaution that all shall not speak at once is unnecessary.

DR. G. GOLDSTEIN, the optician, is still here, having been compelled to remain on account of the increasing demand for his optical goods. He will be here for several days and can be seen at the Coffey House. Call and see him and have your eyes examined.

K. of H. ATTENTION.—Friday evening, Dec. 16, will be a regular meeting. An election of officers for the ensuing year will be held and much important business attended to. Every member is requested to be present. By order of the Dictator. A. A. Warren, Rep. No. 19.

A SWEET FACED little girl arrived Sunday to further bless the union of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Walton, who has been named Lucy Lee, the former for the mother's dead mother and the latter for the father's sister. It weighs 8 pounds and will make a distinguished vocalist, if present power of lungs be indicative of it.

THE L. & N. officials are having a great deal of fun changing the schedule on this division. Another went into effect Sunday, but the change in the passenger trains is slight. The north-bound now passes at 12:40 P. M. and the south-bound at 1:26 P. M. The south-bound at night passes at 11:56 and the north-bound at 3:23 A. M. The local freights pass at 7:10 A. M. and 5:35 P. M.

SHIFTING THE BOOT TO THE OTHER LEG.—When the purchasers of Yellow Creek mud at Middlesboro bought lots at fabulous prices per front foot, the town company made various and sundry promises of what it was going to do. Some 800 or 900 of these purchasers have been sued for the final payments and a number of them met and decided to employ counsel and fight the company. They will not only set up the claim that they should not pay the deferred notes, but will file a cross petition asking for damages.

GOING TO DOUBLE UP.—Beginning next Friday the INTERIOR JOURNAL will issued double its present size to the end of the year and as long as the call on our advertising columns continues. The name of every enterprising merchant in town and country will appear in next issue, but no matter how much space they may take to recount the size of their wares and the cheapness thereof we are not going to curtail the usual space devoted to reading matter, even if we have to issue a quadruple sheet, which we can do on a day's notice.

HELD.—Ed Brown and Mary Marshall, who were arrested for breaking into and robbing Farris & Hardin's store, waived an examination and were held to the circuit court in $300 to $200 bail respectively, which, of course, they could not give. Marshal Newland has all along suspected that Brown was the thief, who was doing nearly all the stealing around town, and since his incarceration he has found enough stolen articles in his house to put him in the pen for a number of years. A basket of clothing was secured, from which Mrs. Lou Shanks identified $20 worth as belonging to her, G. L. Penny a table cloth and numerous other articles of more or less value. Ed is a lazy coon, who never did a full day's work in his life, but he seems to have been putting in his nights pretty profitably of late. It is well that he will have to hang up his socks in jail this Christmas, at least, and bad that the court can't fill them with sentences to the penitentiary.

Having dissolved partnership, we are very desirous of settling our old business, and all customers indebted to B. K. & W. H. Warren will find their accounts with W. H. Warren & Co., at the same place of business. Please call and settle.

Just received a car-load of salt, lime and cement; also full line of Columbian cook stove repairs. J. K. Van Arsdale.

DANKS, if you want them, a Danks'.

H. HELM, Esq., has rented his two pretty cottages, both to preachers. One to Rev. W. E. Ellis, the other to Rev. Julian, the Baptist evangelist for the county.

OWING to the water famine in Lexington, I will have to express the laundry Monday instead of Tuesday. All having laundry will send it in before Monday noon. J. J. Thompson.

SUNDAY and yesterday were the coldest days of the winter, the mercury running down as low as 22° on the former day. "Rain or snow, with warmer weather Tuesday afternoon," is the prediction at the time went to press.

It is much easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for W. H. Higgins to keep out of the grocery business. He has bought out Jesse D. Wearan's fancy establishment at cost and carriage, invoice to be taken January 1.

SOME of the owners of property on Lower Main street are clamoring for pavements and as the money to make them will come out of the owners, it seems as little as the council can do to provide the necessary lines and order their laying.

A SPECIAL term of the circuit court was held here Saturday, when Col. T. P. Hill was elected judge and presided with his usual ability and dispatch. The trial of some and the preparation of other equity suits of no general interest were the occasion of the special court.

The county court yesterday A. R. Penny and W. B. McRoberts each paid $50 for druggists license to sell liquor, J. H. Carter, $75 for merchant's license for same, Henry Hester and Sam Sims $25 each for distiller's license and Custis Gove $150 for hotel license with the privilege of retailing. Mrs. Collins Gentry, guardian of their four children, was granted permission to remove their property to Tennessee.

FROZE TO DEATH.—Sunday the body of a youth about 20 years of age was found under a bridge near Corbin, which upon examination proved to be that of W. B. Foley, of typographical Union No. 3, Cincinnati. A telegram in his pocket from Mr. L. D. Sampson showed that he was on his way to work in the office of the Barbourville Herald. It is supposed that he was walking and being subject to fits, as was afterwards learned, he fell from the bridge and froze to death.

A LARGE crowd of people was in town yesterday, most of them with nothing to do but stand around and shiver. It is singular indeed to us what fond attachment hangs around a country court to the average visitor. They will brave winds, rains, snows and Boreas blasts for the privilege of attending, but if they like that sort of thing, we hope they will get all of that sort of thing they want. We, mind you, are making no objection to as many coming to see us court day, or any other day they choose.

DIED IN THE ASYLUM.—Newell B. Elmore, who began to lose his mind about three years ago, but who was kept by his brother, M. D. Elmore, until no hope of his recovery was entertained, died in the Lexington Asylum, Thursday night, and was buried here Saturday afternoon. His lunacy was of a very peculiar nature and his death was caused simply by the wearing out of his vitality. He is the second of the Elmore brothers to die after becoming mentally deranged, Matt Elmore having died at Anchorage a few years ago.

—The Bright homestead of 150 acres, on the Danville pike, was sold by the master commissioner to W. M. Bright, at $55.40.

—W. L. Riddell, master commissioner of Boone, sold 100 acres of land near Kingsville yesterday for the Misses Moore to J. R. Clutterbuck for $550.

—A Chicago liquor dealer says that many members of Congress are stockholders in the scheme to increase the tax on whisky which would boom the price way out of sight.

—The 4th of March, 1893, when Grover Cleveland will be inaugurated as President of the United States, comes on a Saturday. It is well that he will be inaugurated on a Sunday and Hayes was inaugurated on Monday.

—D. C. Terhune writes from Harrodsburg that he bought Friday of John S. Robinson 35 weanling mules, choice out of 44, at $44, and 4 next choice at $31; also 6 choice out of 14, of C. C. Wheeler, at $47.50 each. He shipped 45 miles to Tennessee Saturday.

—The following is the latest complexion of the Senate as telegraphed from Washington: Senator Kyle, populist, has already announced that he will hereafter vote with the democrats on important questions. The hold-over democratic and republican senators number 28 on each side. But 12 of the newly elected republican senators can be seated without a contest, while the newly elected democrats number 13. This makes 40 democrats to 40 republicans. Mr. Kyle's vote will give the democrats 42, and with Peffer the republicans will have only 41. Thus the democrats, with Mr. Stevenson in the chair, will be assured of a fair tribunal to decide the five contested cases.

—The round house and machine-shop of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad at Salida, Colo., were destroyed by fire. Loss $400,000; insurance unknown.

—Tommy Warren, the featherweight champion pugilist, was convicted of murder, and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary. He killed a negro porter at Waco, Tex., in a saloon while he was trying to get a shot at another man.

—Chief Justice Turney, governor-elect of Tennessee, will not resign his present office, and will appoint his own successor after his inauguration. Gov. Buchan an is said to be vexed in the want of confidence in himself, and wishes to make an appointment now to fill a vacancy that does not exist.

THE COUNTRY ROAD.

The pathway of life may be narrow and steep;
But the road through the country is steeper.
The pitfalls and dangers that beset us are deep;
But the mud that surrounds us is deeper.

There are fence rails for bridges and mud holes
for drains,
And hard heads and bowlders for gravel;
And broken down buggies, on hillside and plains,
Give warnings, like ghosts, as we travel.

Lank horses, by work and abuse broken down,
Gaze at us from road side and stable,

Young men reaching wistfully out toward the town,

Or seeking its portals when able.

Deserted farm houses; the fences decayed,

And the breeze through weed patches blowing.

Where once happy children rejoiced, as they played

Hide and seek, where the field corn was growing.

What joy for the youth, as his longings expand,

In a life so restricted and narrow;

His prospect, 'mid all opportunities grand,

But to follow the plow and the harrow.

Half banished from hope, and shut out of the world,

By a flimsy but tangible curtain;

Society's pleasures away from him hurried—

The roads are "so very uncertain."

There's little enjoyment in life scattered around,

And little of profit or pleasure,

In roads where the bottom can scarcely be found,

With less than a seven-foot measure.

Let us seek some reform then, at once, e'er
we lose

All trace of our roads from our annuals:

And make surface roads that the public can use,

Or else take the underground channels.

—Wilder Grahame, in Good Roads.

BRACING FENCE POSTS.

The Corner Post Should Be Planted at Least Four Feet Deep.

Many wire fences have tall and large corner posts with braces reaching to their tops. When the wire of such a fence is drawn taut, the tall corner post will be lifted up on its steep braces.
This lifting process is sometimes aggravated by a wire stretched from the bottom of the corner post to the top of the nearest fence post. To keep such a post in the ground it is often made of a heavy log, or it is weighted down by huge rocks which frighten young horses. Sometimes a stout cable of twisted wire is guyed from the top of the corner post to a stake driven into the roadside, just where the highway

FIG. 1.—WRONG METHODS OF BRACING A FENCE POST.

FIG. 2.—A PROPERLY BRACED FENCE POST.

should be widest. These wrong methods of bracing a fence post are shown in Fig. 1. The proper way to brace a fence post is shown in Fig. 2, from a sketch sent us by J. Whilden, of Kansas. The corner posts should be planted at least four feet deep, and, if possible, the lower end should be larger. If round and of hard wood it need not be larger than the hole bored by an ordinary post augur. As the lower end should not be the smaller, it should not be pointed or driven in. If of the same size throughout, the lower end may be scolloped, as shown in Fig.

WANTED TO REVISE THE SOLAR SYSTEM.

During the last total eclipse of the sun a boy was selling smoked glasses at a penny apiece.

"You ought to make money," said the purchaser.

"Yes," said the young merchant;
"ours would be a good business if the full season were not so long."—Boston Globe.

SIMILAR LINES.

"Mr. Hawley," said Cynicus to the comic editor, "you ought to know my friend Barker. You are both working in similar lines."

"Barker? Barker? Who is he?" asked Hawley.

"He is the manager of the cemetery
at Bronx Hill."—Truth.

TORNATOR ITEM.

A prematurely bald young man, who is very vain about his personal appearance, asked a New York barber:

"Have you got any stuff that will make the hair grow on my head?"

"I should say so. Just you try my magic elixir, and in less than a month
you will look like one of the monkeys in Central park."—Texas Siftings.

MAMMA IN A HOLE.

Little Dick—This is Saturday, and mamma and papa are going to the theater to-night. I'm awfully glad.

Little Dot—Why is you?

Little Dick—'Cause she can't wash me to-night, an' she'll get up so late tomorrow morning she'll have to let me go dirty or miss church.—Good News.

A LUCKY URBANITE.

Mrs. Meadow—My sister is just the luckiest girl that ever lived. You know she married a summer boarder, and has to live in New York.

Mrs. Lawning—Yes.

Mrs. Meadow—Well, she's got the cattarrh so bad now she can't smell.—N.
Y. Weekly.

ONLY HALF WAY.

Algy—Mr. Bunker, I think I have been in your employ long enough to be entitled to an increase in salary.

Bunker—I agree with you partly, Mr.
Bliffers. I think you have been in my employment long enough. You can go.—
Boston Globe.

A FORGETFUL MAN.

She—it is not right for you to be forgetting with young ladies, particularly when you were married only last week.

He—By Jove, that's so; I had forgotten all about it. Please excuse me for my absent-mindedness.—Texas Siftings.

A TRUE SON.

"Your boy's English is rather bad, Mrs. Moriarty," said the merchant to the office boy's mother.

"True for you, Misster Smithers.
He's Oirish all troo," replied the proud mother.—Judge.

TWO VIEWS.

Marie—No man should kiss me unless he was engaged to me.

Claire—And no man should be engaged to me unless he kissed me.—Detroit Free Press.

THE COUNTRY ROAD.

A TENDER-HEARTED DRIVER.

A stage-coach was toiling up a steep ascent. Suddenly the driver got down, and, while the horses were straining every nerve, he noiselessly opened the coach door and slammed it to again.

"What is that for?" inquired one of the travelers, impatiently.

"Sir, the road is very steep and I am doing it for the sake of my beasts."

"How is that?"

"Why, you see, every time I open the door and shut it again they fancy some one has got out."—Annales Politiques et Litteraires.

A JUDGE OF HUMAN NATURE.

Mr. Ronald—I am sure that your niece,
who makes her debut next week, must
be a very lovely girl.

Mrs. Dowager—She certainly is; but,
as you have never seen her, how came
you to know it?

Mr. Ronald—I heard Miss Fading,
who is in her fourth season, say that
she was a perfect fright.—Judge.

AN APPROPRIATE REMEDY.

Mrs. Selby—Doctah, de chile dun gone swaller p'int ob ink.

Doctor—Hab yo' dun ennyding fo' de relief ob 'im?

Mrs. Selby—Ise dun made 'n eat free sheet ob blottin' paper, doctah. Was dat rite?—Brooklyn Life.

ATTENTION OF THE PUBLIC.

Mr. Ronald—I am sure that your niece,
who makes her debut next week, must
be a very lovely girl.

Mrs. Dowager—She certainly is; but,
as you have never seen her, how came
you to know it?

Mr. Ronald—I heard Miss Fading,
who is in her fourth season, say that
she was a perfect fright.—Judge.

A MORTAL INSULT.

What did Waite say that mortally
offended Miss Pithave?"

"Why, just after her fruitless visit to Europe he had the temerity to allude to her as a peerless creature."—Life.
